At Tiger Lifting, we think that anything that helps the many parties in the lifting equipment supply chain become more sustainable and efficient is a positive step.

RiConnect software utilises Supra Digital Chips and Tags to provide digital equipment traceability, manufacturer authentication, equipment information and status management.

RiConnect allows workers to complete equipment inspections digitally, standardise procedures and send reports to identify problems and resolve them.

Equipment traceability includes:

- Identification or serial number
- Declaration of conformity
- Pre-use checks
- Report of thorough examination
- Certificates
- Maintenance record

RiConnect is an asset management tool which is controlled through cloud-based software. It saves paper processes, time and costs as it is digital. The information follows the product; it can be accessed by different parties along the supply chain including product manufacturers, asset owners, general users and inspection service providers.

Customer data security is a priority, so the cloud system ensures the privacy and security of customer data.
